The SEC requires all broker-dealers that route orders in equity securities and options to make available quarterly reports that present a general overview of their routing practices. The reports must identify the significant venues to which customer orders were routed for execution during the applicable quarter and disclose the material aspects of the broker-dealer's relationship with such venue. In addition, the Rule (SEC 606) requires broker-dealers to disclose, upon customer request, the venues to which the individual customer's orders were routed for the six months prior to the request, and the execution time for the orders that were executed.
